

7-Eleven Australia has appointed Angus McKay as its new CEO. Chairman of 7-Eleven Stores Pty Ltd, Michael Smith, says the appointment of Mr McKay is a crucial part of advancing the company's Strategic Reform Program, which is focused on growing 7-Eleven, improving its operations and enhancing its people and culture.

In partnership with Convenience Pulse, Convenience World held the Convenience Retailers Choice Awards (CRCA) for 2015 in February, recognising stand-out achievers in the P&C channel. Now in its third year, CRCA recognises, measures and celebrates the efficacy and achievements of suppliers and service providers operating in a range of categories within the P&C channel.

The event was MC'd by POPlever Executive Director Debbie Schubert and also featured presentations from SPAR Australia CEO Lou Jardin, Coca-Cola Amatil Sales Director James Lane and Australasian Convenience and Petroleum Marketers Association CEO Mark McKenzie. See pages 18-19 for the feature.

ACAPMA CEO Mark McKenzie discusses biofuels, fuel price boards and fuel price transparency, and the increasing cost of regulatory compliance.

He says genuine consultation with the fuel industry about proposed regulatory measures serves to minimise regulatory costs for fuel retailers in the future and allows state/territory governments to deliver on their stated commitment to keep fuel prices as low as possible for motorists. See pages 36-40 for the 'ACAPMA Petroleum Industry Report'.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Lorna Gloria', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Lorna Gloria
Managing Editor
Convenience World